

The Justin Cofield Band: Publicity Bio

The Justin Cofield Band, known for their energetic sound and style, is intentional about being a catalyst for life change through music. The foursome believes it's purpose is not entirely to lead people to worship, but to create an atmosphere where believers and non-believers can connect with something greater than themselves. Their combination of heart-felt lyrics, solid melodies, and ear-catching guitar riffs has become the signature for their music, and has allowed them to communicate a "realness" in what they sing and in what they live. "We believe that worship is something that should permeate your entire life" says front-man Justin Cofield. The JCB's desire is to be God-glorifying, not only in their music, but also in the way that they live.

"The beginning" for the JCB took place in West Texas as a worship band leading a collegiate bible study. As friends and fellow musicians, the band began to form under the direction of lead singer Justin Cofield. "We all came together at different times and in different places," says Cofield, "but we definitely had music as a common thread among us". As the band began to develop it's unique style of worship and rock, it's fan-base also began to grow. Soon the band was traveling, not just in West Texas, but all over the Lone Star state and the nation. The band is now rooted in Austin, Texas.

The JCB released their latest collaborative effort in April of 2008 entitled The Days Of Love:

"We are all on a journey. We all have a certain number of days on this earth to be a part of something bigger than ourselves. The call to love people is a large part of why we were created. Every day that Christ walked on the earth was a day that He loved. Loving God and loving people is what we believe brings joy, peace, and glory to the one who created us. We hope that you will answer this call with us and begin to take hold of opportunities to love those around you. These songs were written as our interpretation of, struggle with, and call to live, the days of love."

“The Justin Cofield Band has led worship for several of our statewide events and has done excellent every time! They are easy to work with and have hearts of servants. They connect with students and adult leaders as much off stage as they do on stage and you can tell that their ministry is a calling, not just a job. We will be using them again this summer and hopefully for years to come!”

- Leighton Flowers, BGCT Youth Evangelism Director

“It is clear to me that Justin and the JCB have a calling on their lives which precedes their ability to lead worship. Their musical talent gives them a platform for this calling. On stage they lead worship with authenticity, authority, and excellence. Off stage they simply live out the calling of God. I enjoy working with them because they are great worship leaders. But beyond that, they are great guys who desire to glorify God. Their passion to follow Christ is challenging and contagious.”

- Lance Shumake, President, iWitness Ministries

“It was such a pleasure to work with these guys recently on ‘The Days Of Love’ and ‘Searching for Resolution’. It's obvious that they put their heart in to what they do - there's a raw honesty to the music that's missing from much of today's cookie-cutter offerings. Do yourself a favor and check out Justin Cofield Band.”

- Bob Boyd, Mastering Engineer, Ambient Digital

"The thing about the Justin Cofield Band is their focus. The unity of both music & mission in these 4 Texas rockers is as tight as their unique atmospheric worship-rock. ... The handiwork of all four members is spread all over this self-produced album. It is collaborative in the fullest sense of the word, and the result? Twelve diverse, mature songs that combine sharp lyrics, expressive arrangements, and thick atmosphere that serve to propel you toward an encounter with God. Their sound is unique and refreshingly well-developed. ... The Justin Cofield Band is making music as good as any label offering and in many cases much better."
